

How to solve the problem:

With the start button, filling of the two vessels is started. As soon as both vessels are filled, the mixing process can start – switch the control on the user interface. It is stopped, when one vessel is empty.